Education, Certifications, Credentials, Other Designations, and Memberships - Detailed Disclosures

Education, Certifications, and Credentials:

^ACertified Financial Planner (CFP®): The Certified Financial Planner (CFP®) designation is a voluntary certification that is recognized for its high standard of professional education, stringent code of conduct and standards of practice, and ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the four E's: (1) Education, by completing college or university-level coursework through a program registered with CFP Board; earning an accredited college or university bachelor's degree or higher; and completing a financial plan development "capstone" course, (2) Examination, by passing the CFP® Certification Examination, administered in two 3-hour sessions on one day, (3) Experience, by completing a minimum of three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year), and (4) Ethics, by agreeing to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals. Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks: (1) Complete thirty hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours related to the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and (2) Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

^{A1}The CFP Board defines a Subject Matter Expert (SME) as an individual who has relevant to the topic covered (1) an academic degree; (2) industry credentialing; or (3) a minimum of 5 years of experience in the related field. An SME is designated by the CFP Board and is a volunteer selected to represent the demographics of the CFP professional population.

CFP® and CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ are certification marks owned by the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, LLC. These marks are awarded to individuals who successfully complete the CFP Board's initial and ongoing certification requirements. To learn more about CFP® certification, visit www.cfp.net
